Antonios G. Mikos

Professor Antonios G. Mikos is a Louis Calder Professor of Bioengineering and Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering, Rice University, Texas, USA. He is also the director of the National Institutes of Health Center for Engineering Complex Tissues, the Center for Excellence in Tissue Engineering and the J. W. Cox Laboratory for Biomedical Engineering at the same University.

Prof. A. G. Mikos graduated from the Department of Chemical Engineering of the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. He obtained his Ph.D. from Purdue University under the supervision of Prof. Nicholas A. Peppas. After post-doctoral studies at the MIT and Harvard Medical School, where he collaborated with Prof. Robert Langer, he was elected as Assistant Professor at Rice University in 1992, where he provides his academic services until today.

During his academic career, Prof. A. G. Mikos has been honored with a number of awards, including among many others- the Distinguished Scientist Award - the Isaac Schour Memorial Award, International Association for Dental Research (2010), Lifetime Achievement Award, Tissue Engineering and Regenerative Medicine International Society-Americas (2015) and Acta Biomaterialia Gold Medal (2019).

Prof. A. G. Mikos is one of the pioneers worldwide in Biomaterials for Tissue Engineering and belongs to the top 1% highly cited researchers in his scientific field. He is a founding editor and currently editor-in-chief of Tissue Engineering, Part A, B, C, and has served as president of the Tissue Engineering and Regenerative Medicine International Society-Americas and the Society for Biomaterials.

Prof. A. G. Mikos presents a very rich teaching activity, as he has been the supervisor of 55 PhD students and 37 post-doctoral researchers, of whom 22 followed an academic career.

Professor, Antonios G. Mikos, that will take place on Thursday 26 September 2019 at 10.00 am at the Ceremony Hall of the Old Building of the School of Philosophy.

The laudatio will be presented by Professor Petros T. Koidis.

After the appointment
Professor Antonios G. Mikos will give a speech on:

“Tissue Regeneration by means of Biomaterials”

The Rector
Professor Nikolaos G. Papaioannou

The President
Professor Lambros V. Zouloumis
PROGRAMME
PUBLIC FESTIVE MEETING
of the School of Dentistry

OPENING OF THE CEREMONY
By the President of the School of Dentistry
Professor Lambros V. Zouloumis

SALUTATION
By the Rector of Aristotle University of Thessaloniki
Professor Nikolaos G. Papaioannou

SALUTATION
By the Dean of Faculty of Health Sciences
Professor Theodoros I. Dardavesis

SALUTATION
By the President of the School of Dentistry
Professor Lambros V. Zouloumis

LAUDATIO
By the Professor of the School of Dentistry
Petros T. Koidis

CEREMONY
Reading and serving the resolution and title by the President of School of Dentistry
Professor Lambros V. Zouloumis

SERVING THE COMMEMORATIVE PLATE
