ANNOUNCEMENT

An Evening Dedicated to Chrysostomos Stamoulis, Organised by the School of Theology of Aristotle University

Thessaloniki, 24/9/2026

The School of Theology of Aristotle University is organising a commemorative event in honour of the late former Dean and Professor Chrysostomos Stamoulis on Monday, 28 September 2026, at 20:00, on the grounds of the School of Theology.

According to the organisers, the evening aims to shed light on the multifaceted personality and deeply human side of Chrysostomos Stamoulis. Through brief personal accounts from people who shared his journey, the event will seek to highlight the impact he left both on the academic community and on culture.

The event will feature speakers from the academic community, figures from the arts and culture, as well as people who were close to him in his everyday life and shared memories and moments with him.

The event will feature a rich artistic programme including music, poetry and film excerpts. The musical programme will feature the “Voices” Mixed Choir of the Church of Saint Barbara in Thessaloniki, conducted by Maestro Konstantinos Deminakis, while the following artists will perform: Andreas Karakotas, Manolis Hatzimanolis and Giorgos Kalogirou. Konstantinos Deminakis and Ephraim Kourtis will provide the musical accompaniment.

The event is open to the public. The organisers invite all members of the university community, friends, colleagues and the general public to honour, through their presence, the memory of an exceptional teacher, scholar and human being. The event poster is attached.

We kindly request that this event be published, broadcast, and covered by the media.
