ANNOUNCEMENT

38th Archaeological Meeting on the Excavations of 2025 in Macedonia and Thrace

Thessaloniki, 4 March 2026

With 57 papers, 11 poster presentations, and 175 participants, the annual Archaeological Meeting on the excavations of 2025 in Macedonia and Thrace will take place on 5 and 6 March 2026 at the KEDEA Building of Aristotle University. The Opening Ceremony of the Conference will take place tomorrow, Thursday, 5 March 2026, at 9:00 a.m.

The School of History and Archaeology of Aristotle University and the Ministry of Culture organize the Conference. Archaeologists from the Archaeological Service, the Universities, and the foreign Archaeological Schools will present, for the 38th time, the results of their excavations, the archaeological and archaeometric documentation of their data, and the monument enhancement projects in Macedonia and Thrace, from Evros to Kastoria.

The knowledge that emerges from these productive research approaches reaches the international scholarly community directly through the proceedings of these archaeological meetings, which have been published consistently every year since 1987.

The Conference proceedings will be broadcast live via Zoom at the following link:
