PRESS RELEASE

Aristotle University launches the new online radio station “AUTH Radio”

Thessaloniki, March 16, 2026

The inauguration of the new online radio station of Aristotle University, “AUTH Radio,” will take place tomorrow, Tuesday, March 17, 2026, at 12:30, at the radio station’s headquarters in the courtyard of the Administration Building, within the Digital Governance Unit.

The Rector of Aristotle University, Professor Kyriakos Anastasiadis, will inaugurate the station.

The Rector will open AUTH Radio’s broadcasting schedule and, immediately after the inauguration, he will give an interview to the station’s Director, Professor Nikolaos Panagiotou of the School of Journalism and Mass Media.

The new online radio station of Aristotle University aims to become an innovative educational and communication platform that strengthens the University’s presence in contemporary digital media. At the same time, the initiative aims to offer students the opportunity to train in radio production, as well as in the creation of podcasts and vidcasts, while also serving as a communication channel between the University and society.

Students and faculty members of Aristotle University design and produce the programs of AUTH Radio. Through these broadcasts, they share ideas, knowledge, and experiences across a wide range of topics—from student life and everyday university activities to science, health, and well-being; and from literature, language, and culture to history, society, and new technologies.

On the occasion of the creation of the online radio station, the Rector of Aristotle University, Professor Kyriakos Anastasiadis, stated: "ATh Radio is a new outreach initiative of Aristotle University of Thessaloniki that brings knowledge and research closer to society. At the same time, it gives students the opportunity to train in modern communication media and to express themselves creatively. We are confident that it will become a dynamic space for dialogue, information, and the dissemination of scientific knowledge with credibility and responsibility."
